ROTARY CLUB OF DAYTON RED RIBBON COMMITTEE RAISES FUNDS TO SUPPORT The Foodbank, Inc.

DAYTON, Ohio – The Rotary Club of Dayton Red Ribbon Committee, comprised of new members to the club, selected The Foodbank, Inc. as the recipient of their cohort project. Red Ribbon members raised awareness of the need for and funds to purchase digital scanners to improve operational efficiency, allowing The Foodbank, Inc. to better serve our community. Funds raised will purchase two new scanners, which will be used by employees to track and manage inventory without manually logging every interaction on paper.

“We are proud to support an incredible organization like The Foodbank, Inc. as they do such wonderful work in our community providing hope to those facing food insecurity,” said Emily Broughton, Red Ribbon Committee Chair of the Day. “These scanners will make their jobs much easier and eliminate countless hours of manual tracking, freeing up their resources to better serve our neighbors.”

Lee Lauren Truesdale, Chief Development Officer, and Kate McEwen, Chief Operating Officer, represented The Foodbank, Inc. at the Red Ribbon meeting and shared about the mission, impact, and reach of the organization. Serving Preble, Montgomery, and Greene Counties, the need is always great and they are always accepting donations – whether they be food or monetary.

Each year, new members to the Rotary Club of Dayton are assigned to the Red Ribbon Committee, where they are challenged to adopt a community project that will enhance the Dayton region. Members take over a Club meeting, filling all the Club leadership roles, and raise funds to support their project. Past recipients have included The Victory Project, The Village Network, and the Dayton Police K-9 Unit, among many other worthy causes.
